

Aging, Sage-ing, Engaging

January 12–13, 2019, Delray Beach, Florida

We are Sultanas, women of a certain age, leaning into our third and fourth acts, consciously recalculating and reinventing ourselves while transforming the current paradigm of aging through "sage-ing" (lifelong learning/community building/service) and engaging.

Sultanas Gathering 2019, an experience of letting go and being in dynamic ease and grace is by invite only to female serial explorers, high achievers and seekers of truth.

Cultivating our collective consciousness, we will meet in person; face-to-face, heart-to-heart, mind-to-mind, body-to-body. Part retreat, part think tank, part body sensation, and part celebratory ritual, we will catalyze our collaboration with Sage Sultanas. By sharing our unique portals of experience in spiritual eldering; healthy holistic aging; and death, dying, and documents, we'll take a deep dive into engaging for positive change.

We will be immersed in Mother Nature, enjoying healing sun, glorious shade, palm trees and ocean breezes as we engage in the joy of movement, the power of sound, and the surprising benefits of the relationship economy. PLUS, plain old FUN!

It is our intent that every Sultana will come away with feelings of support and resolve for developing new holistic pathways in our regenerative journey. So that we can continue influencing positive change for younger generations.

Come plant seeds of connection. Be a founding Sultana. Be part of Sultanas Brain Trust. Invite a Sultana sister. Because when we show up, MAGIC happens!

With much love and admiration,

Hinda Miller, Founder, Sultanas Group
